Marijuana was the number one drug in the U.S. found by Drug Recognition Experts in 2014.

From 2007 to 2014, the number of nighttime weekend drivers in the U.S. with marijuana in their system increased nearly 50%.

In Washington state, the percent of drivers in fatal crashes who recently used marijuana more than doubled between 2013 and 2014.

In 2014, 1 in 6 drivers involved in fatal crashes in the state had recently used marijuana.

Source: National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA)

Source: AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety

Source: Sobriety Testing Resource Center

#AAADriveSober
AAA.com/DriveSober